> ARMY IN ORSOVA MAY BE LEFT TO ITS FATE

Allied Forces Renew Activi ties in the Dobrudja Campaign.

LONDON, Nov. 23 .- Ten thousand square miles, nearly half of westers Rumania, have been yielded to the invading Teutons by the Rumanian army which lost Cralova. The Rue manians have retreated to the Alt Vale ley, ninety miles west of Bucharest, where they plan to make a stand. This is the opinion here in the light of an official statement issued to-day Decision to Sink Ships Trans- Bill in Reichstag Will Force by the Rumanian War Office, its first official word since Sunday. It is believed this statement spells the abandoning of the Rumanian army at Orsova, in Hungary, to its fate. This

The train on which Prince Demidoff. Russian Minister to Athens, was going to Salonica was fired on by bands of reservists, according to an Athens despatch to the Petit Parisien. On the return journey the train was detailed by a criminal band, the despatch says, close to Litochori, but no one was hurt in either attempt.

The Federal Council will regulate the executive measures.

The Bulgartan statement bears out this beltef. It says that the Rumanians "mank their barges on the Danube and destroyed the bridge near Corabia, RUSSIAN DREADNOUGHT where they set fire to stores of am-munition." Corabia is on the Danube, a few miles west of the mouth of the Alt. If the Rumanian lines further forth were retiring behind the Alt, further south, Corabia would be abandoned and the Rumanians there would

The mention of a bridge near Corabia

is mystifying. No permanent bridge across the Danube exists there. The Bulgarian statement may mean a bridge PETROGRAD, Nov. 23, via London, Nov. across the Alt, near Corabia, by the retirement across the Alt was ef-21 - Russia officially announces the loss feeted. of the dreadnought Imperatritsa Maria.

Meantime Russian reenforcements are being thrown into Rumania rapidly. Berlin announces to-day that the Russians in western Molshavia, on the Carpathian front, have been reenforced. This may be intended as the first step in another and stronger Russian attempt to regain the offensive and turn the Austrian lines near Dorna Watra or at least create a diversion. Also it releases more Rumanian troops for the defence of Wal-
